

CHC 2P – Canadian History Since World War I

Classroom Expectations

In order for every student to reach their full potential, a cooperative and safe learning environment must be maintained.

CHC 2P is a class that is well suited for alternative learning activities and collaborative discussions. This requires responsible and mature behaviour from everyone in the class to work successfully.

Individual textbook and written work is more appropriate for classes that are unable to follow the expectations needed for a safe learning environment.

The following rules, as described in the Student Handbook, must be followed:

- no swearing
- no food
- no hats
- no texting

There are a few rules that apply to this classroom in particular:

- stay away from the science equipment
- ask if you need to leave the room
- respect your fellow students, their opinions, and their beliefs

Respecting the following guidelines will ensure your success in the course:

- participate in class activities and complete all assignments
- communicate with me often and honestly
- try to remain open and positive

Disregard of any of the above guidelines may be grounds for a detention with me at lunch, removal from the classroom, and/or contact with your caregiver.

You determine the kinds of activities that we can do in class – make smart choices!
