

CareWorks Vic-Tas is the Welfare and Community Ministry arm of Churches of Christ in Victoria and Tasmania.

CareWorks Vic-Tas is established established by the Conference of the Churches of Christ in Vic-Tas for the direct relief of poverty, suffering, distress, misfortune, disability or helplessness in the community.

CareWorks office is based in Fairfield, Melbourne and is managed by the Mission and Ministry Department. It forms Partnership Projects with local Church and groups that want to undertake relevant and sustainable community based projects. We therefore form the auspicing body for these projects and seek to seek and receive government funding and provide a legal framework for them to operate within.

CareWorks mission is to serve into and support local churches, ministries and people across Churches of Christ in Victoria and Tasmania to bring the Good News of Jesus Christ to individuals, families and the wider community.

CareWorks manages a range of community based projects such as crises centres for women and children, homeless street feeds, drop In, counselling, food banks, financial counselling, op shops, resource centres, men's' sheds and so on.

There is a significant emphasis on Church Partnerships. CareWorks aims to see this area of the ministry grow not only in the number of projects but in the impact they make in their communities and the lives of people they serve into.
